5. The Board next considered a request from [REDACTED] for the deferment of her retirement under the Civil Service Retirement System from 30 April 1971 until 31 July 1972 when she will complete 20 years of creditable service. [REDACTED] states that upon retirement her only income will be her retirement annuity, which would be approximately $3,300 per annum if she retires in April 1971, and that she will have practically no opportunity for re-employment at her age. The [REDACTED] [REDACTED] stated that if the extension is granted, [REDACTED] can continue to use [REDACTED] in her present position. The Assistant Deputy Director for Intelligence has concurred in the requested extension. The Board recommended that [REDACTED] be granted a deferment of her retirement until 31 July 1972 in consideration of the compassionate reasons involved.

6. The next case was a request from the Director, Economic Research (D/OER) for the deferment of [REDACTED] retirement from 30 June 1971 until 30 June 1972 based on a need for his services. The D/OER states that [REDACTED] is the senior petroleum industry specialist in OER, and although he is primarily responsible for intelligence production on petroleum in the Free World, he provides technical support and consultative services to other analysts responsible for similar intelligence support on the Communist countries. He is highly productive and has unusual expertise in his field by virtue of his pre-CIA experience. D/OER states that other analysts are working on petroleum but none has [REDACTED] depth and breadth of knowledge or enjoys the reputation he has in both government and business circles. D/OER also states that [REDACTED] retirement as presently scheduled would leave a serious gap in their capability for providing essential intelligence support in the petroleum field. He contends that although [REDACTED] has spent considerable time training other more junior personnel it will be many years before these analysts acquire the degree of expertise on the petroleum industry possessed by [REDACTED]. D/OER concludes that assuming that the needs of the Agency and U. S. policy officials for intelligence support on international petroleum will continue, particularly on critical areas such as the Middle East and Vietnam, he believes that [REDACTED] should be requested to remain in his current assignment through June of 1973. The Deputy Director for Intelligence has concurred in this recommendation.

25X1A The Board, with [REDACTED] voting nay, recommended that [REDACTED] 25X1A retirement be deferred until 30 June 1973 for operational reasons.
25X1A [REDACTED] indicated that he would be in favor of a one-year extension only. The Board further recommended that the Office of Economic Research be advised to attempt to seek a qualified replacement for [REDACTED] 25X1A during the almost three years remaining before his extended retirement date.

25X1A 7. The final case was the 15th Anniversary Review of [REDACTED] 25X1A
[REDACTED] who will complete 15 years of Agency service on 27 December 1970.
25X1A As of 16 June 1970 [REDACTED] had completed 48 months and 9 days of verified qualifying service and on 17 June 1970 he arrived in Saigon for a PCS tour of duty which will give him 60 months of qualifying service on 8 June 1971.
25X1A The DDP/OP recommended that in view of the fact that [REDACTED] is currently overseas, that he be retained in the System pending completion of sixty months of qualifying service in June 1971. The Chairman informed the Board 25X1A that [REDACTED] would be retained in the System based on his being overseas at the present time on a tour which will give him the required 60 months of qualifying service only six months after his 15th Anniversary date, and the Board interposed no objections.

8. The meeting adjourned at 3:10 p. m.
